OLYMPIC CHAL-A MODELS NOW ON DISPLAY

Easy-Assemble Cabins Are On Display Here

The new Olympic Chal-A, a prefabricated building package, is on the market here.

Models are on display at Olympic Prefabricators, North 107th Street and Stone Avenue North, where they are manufactured, and at 6805 Perimeter Rd. S. at Boeing Field where M. L. Ramme, a franchised distributor-dealer, has headquarters.

THE MATERIAL and parts for the Chal-A, suitable as a mountain or beach cabin, are pre-cut and fitted. End walls are factory assembled. It takes about 80 man hours to erect one. No carpentry training is necessary.

A basic package, which includes a 16-by-24-foot cabin, costs slightly more than $2,500. Included are outside decks and a 12-by-12-foot loft. Variations and extensions in four-foot multiples are available at added cost.

The Chal-A features 7-ply glue-laminated lightweight beams. The basic unit contains 1,810 cubic feet more than a conventional A-frame of the same size, Ramme said, because of the gothic arch.

MULTI - RIBBED aluminum roofs come in five colors. A spiral stairway is used to reach the loft.

The interior furnishing is left to the purchaser. Many have added fireplaces and other conveniences.

The front has a sliding glass door and sliding windows. A Dutch door is provided for the rear entry.
